

notice · employees

California law guarantees certain benefits to employees who are injured or become ill because of their work. Any job related injury or illness is covered. Types of injuries and illnesses covered include, but are not limited to, strains, sprains, cuts, cumulative or repetitive fractures,