

COMMUNICATION STUDIES A.A. Degree Major

The Communication Studies program allows students to focus their major course work and required electives to meet the needs of business, interpersonal, and public communication and demonstrate communicative competence. A degree in Communication Studies can lead to career (or further study) in public relations, teaching, consulting, broadcasting, law, ministry, public

